

Emscherkunst.2013 - Temporary Visitor Center Emscher Village

This temporary visitors' center for Emscherkunst.2013 and the art camp for local art associations are made from re-used shipping containers, which house the different programs. By keeping the layout strictly on ground level and creating a path through a village, it is not only the space inside that matters, but also the various in-between spaces. The path spans from the visitors' center to the art camp and also connects the Rhein-Herne canal to the Lindnerstrasse. The path itself is defined by the different qualities of the ground: pallets, pebbles, gardens and flower meadows.
